Bar Association Hosts “Hot Talks” to Discuss Executive Power with “From the Nixon White House to the Trump Tower”

WHAT: The Cleveland Metropolitan Bar Association (CMBA), together with its co-presenter The Press Club of Cleveland, will host the next session of its monthly series “Hot Talks” and is inviting all of Cleveland to participate. The next Hot Talk will be Tuesday, July 11 at 12 p.m. at the CMBA’s Conference Center located in One Cleveland Center. Titled “From the Nixon White House to the Trump Tower,” the program will take an in depth look at executive power and provide the opportunity for civil and thoughtful dialog on the topic.

This month’s conversation will welcome James Robenalt of Thompson Hine. His knowledge of the presidency and the courts will offer thoughtful and practical insight into what is happening in the halls of power and what might lie ahead.

The program will be moderated by Thomas Fladung of The Press Club of Cleveland. After brief, introductory remarks, the conversation will be open to all for a brief question and answer period.

The event is free and open to the public. Bring your questions, views, and insights to this lunch-hour conversation. Attendees may bring their own lunch or pay per-purchase one through the CMBA.
